

LECTURER: isiXHOSA (60%)
AFRICAN LANGUAGES SECTION (MEDICAL SCHOOL)
SCHOOL OF LANGUAGES & LITERATURES
FACULTY OF HUMANITIES

We invite applications for the above post for appointment as soon as possible.

The African Languages Section within the School of Languages and Literatures seeks to employ a dynamic academic to deliver tuition in oral competence to various departments within UCT's Faculty of Health Sciences. The primary aim of the post is to equip student doctors with basic communication skills in isiXhosa in order to enable them to interact with patients who do not have English as a mother tongue. Applicants should be capable of expanding our current offering and must have a track record in developing and delivering discipline-specific language teaching.

Applicants should have a readiness to pursue further academic research. An ability to communicate effectively in English is also a prerequisite.

Requirements:

- MA in a relevant field (a PhD would be an advantage)
- Minimum of three years lecturing experience in Tertiary Education
- Experience in teaching isiXhosa to non-mother tongue learners
- Proven administrative abilities in a tertiary context

Advantages:

- Competence in convening courses with large student registrations (a minimum of 200)
- Experience in managing special purposes teaching activities
- A proven record of course design and delivery for special purposes teaching
- An emerging research track record (which may include but is not restricted to Special Purposes teaching)

The annual remuneration package, including benefits, is R383 090.

To apply, please e-mail the below documents in a single pdf file to recruitment02@uct.ac.za

- UCT Application Form (download at <http://forms.uct.ac.za/hr201.doc>)
- Cover letter, and
- Curriculum Vitae (CV) no longer than two pages in length
