

LECTURER/SENIOR LECTURER

Department of Computer Science FACULTY OF SCIENCE

The Department of Computer Science seeks to fill a permanent academic position at Lecturer or Senior Lecturer level. Our BSc Honours degree is accredited by the British Computer Society and we have a large cohort of MSc and PhD students. The Department hosts the UCT Centre in ICT for Development, and also specialises in visual computing, high-performance computing, digital libraries and artificial intelligence.

A minimum requirement will be a PhD degree in Computer Science or a relevant area. Exceptional candidates with an MSc degree will be considered at Lecturer level and will be expected to register for a PhD. Applicants should provide clear information about their research and teaching experience, as this will also influence the level of appointment.

The successful candidate will be expected to develop and teach Computer Science courses, to carry out research, to contribute to departmental administration and to supervise postgraduate students.

The annual remuneration packages for 2018, including benefits, are as follows:

Lecturer: R639 848
Senior Lecturer: R786 717

An allowance for scarce skills will be offered.
